Peter's Perspectives

In December my two-year tenure as Chair will be over. It hardly seems possible. I am proud to have had the opportunity and the privilege to serve Evergreen Association of ABCUSA churches. I am a product of Northern/American Baptists having been nurtured for over three-fourth of a century and called to min-istry over fifty-three years ago.

Yes, there has been tough times, but I

Events & Happenings

*Japanese Baptist Church invites you to the Asian Dinner and Festival, to be held Sunday, October 28, 2007, at Chinese Baptist Church, 5801 Beacon Avenue S, Seattle. The event will start at 4:30 p.m. with a program featuring presentations by the three sponsoring churches: Chinese Baptist Church, Japanese Baptist Church, and Filipino-American Christian Fellowship. The dinner follows.

A scholarship event, dinner tickets are $10 for adults and $5 for children 6—11 years old; (under 5 yrs old –free)

There are nine(9) Offering Plates in excellent condition available to any church which can make use of all or any number of them. Please call Seattle First Baptist Church at 206-325-6051.

*Churches in Seattle wishing to provide intern- ship or other educational opportunities to seminarians should contact Fuller Seminary's extension here and/or the School of Theology and Ministry at Seattle University. Both schools are eager to identify such opportunities, and American Baptist seminarians preparing for ordination with Evergreen are expected to do at least some of that work in an American Baptist setting.

Thai Crafts Will Be Available at Annual Meeting

Ruth Fox, missionary to Thailand was stateside in late 2006 to early 2007 and brought with her handmade crafts to sell to support some of their ministries. Akha Craft is a ministry she helped get going when she first went to Chiang Rai six years ago.

Included among the crafts are Akha shoulder bags that represent the efforts of the women of Mehmon Village. They were trying to raise money for a Sunday School building/church in their village and didn't have cash, so they made these bags as their "tithe" toward the building. So purchasing one of these bags helps toward the women's tithes toward the building.

In addition to the shoulder bags are items such as: key-rings, hairclips, eyeglass cases, potholders, hot mitts, neckties, Bible covers, coin purses tote bags, vests, tablecloths, and more.

All funds will be sent to Missionary Fox for the ministries in Thailand.

Plan to find some special gifts among the inventory.

ANOTHER WAY TO SUPPORT *SEUSSICAL*TM the musical

Perhaps you want to support our fundraiser, *SEUSSICAL*TM the musical you can put your name or the name of your organization in the program booklet.

The program will be on 8 ½ x 11 paper folded, so a page will be 4¼ x 5½. A full page will be $150. One-half page will be $100. One-quarter page will $50.00. A business card size will be $35.00. Sponsorships, a listing of your name will be $25.00. Inside back or front cover will be $225.00.

If you desire to have your name or organization in the program book, contact Clem Winbush at the Association office before November 1, clem@ea-abc.org or 253-859-2226. We will use "camera" ready copy only. Thanks for supporting our efforts to give to SHARE/WHEEL Tent Cities and support our own ministries of Evergreen.

Executive Minister Clarifies MPT'S and UNITED MISSION

I have received several questions recently regarding giving to our international missionaries. Some folks seem to have heard that the only way for churches to support International Ministries is to re-direct their United Mission dollars. Since this is not true, I want to clarify some things from my viewpoint as your Executive Minister.

International Ministries in the last two-three years has embarked on a new way of raising money for their international missionaries. In the past, missionaries on "home assignment" were all required and encouraged to be engaged with local churches telling their stories and asking for the mission dollar, all international mission dollars were put into the common pool, from which everyone (home staff as well as those deployed) was paid. International Ministries believes that more dollars can be raised if each overseas missionary is responsible for raising a certain amount of dollars that cover that individual's (or couple's or family's) salary and expenses. They have, as I understand it, set a dollar amount which must be raised by each missionary. To help each missionary raise this money, they recruit a "MPT" or Missionary Partner Team. This team finds prayer partners as well as "money" partners. The understanding is that this would help find new money for our missionaries over and above what churches were giving to American Baptist mission and the World Mission Offering.

American Baptists agreed sometime ago to work together in raising the mission dollar so that we would not always be at the door of the churches and church members asking for money. The basic means for raising the monies needed is the United Mission Dollar. In June we sent a brochure along with the newsletter that outlined where the United Mission Dollar goes. United Mission is Evergreen's bread and butter. Our budget of $235,000 for next year anticipates receiving $115,000 of United Mission giving from our churches. To receive $115,000 means our churches must give at least $184,000 to United Mission. The rest of those dollars go to the representative process, the Office of the General Secretary, National Ministries and International Ministries as determined by the General Board. In addition, International Ministries receives every dollar of the World Mission Offering, being received in most churches this month or next. National Ministries and Evergreen share the proceeds from the America for Christ offering (taken in February and March), National Ministries receiving two-thirds and Evergreen one-third. The United Mission dollar is important to the work and mission of Evergreen, if your church does not give to United Mission, the work of Evergreen suffers.

"The basic means for raising the monies needed is the United Mission Dollar."

If you desire to support a specific overseas missionary you are encouraged to do so by finding those "over and above" dollars. A church may designate World Mission Offering dollars to a specific missionary, but know that every dollar goes to support our International Missionaries.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any further questions about supporting Evergreen or your other American Baptist missions.

Surround Your Schools with Care in September and Beyond—Nat’l Min.

As children have begun a new school year, there is much that you and your congregation can do to surround the schools in your community with care. Jan Resseger, Minister for Public Education and Witness with the United Church of Christ, and chair of the NCC Committee on Public Education and Literacy, suggests 56 things you can do, from praying for children in your schools to honoring and appreciating public school teachers; from supporting parents to partnering with public schools; from studying the issues surrounding public education to advocating for public education funding and reform.

Download this resource today and begin thinking about what you can do to surround your schools with care. For a have never felt an urge to look for another affiliation.

No issues have come before our Region during the months that I have been Chair. However, I have been engaged in conversations pertaining to churches in our region that do not carry the Baptist label. The question raised is how baptistic are they? I do not have an Evergreen answer. The decision to change names have certainly been based on the fact of congregational autonomy, a Baptist liberty. Related to the discussion is the question of "community" churches. This too has been a congregational decision.

The congregations' participation and place in The Evergreen Association is clear indication of their roots and desire to uphold their Baptist heritage. Thanks and praise be to God!

My personal view is that it is paramount that "at heart" we continue to "lift up" our Baptist heritage, which I believe is within the will and purpose of God for "His people." Scripture is definitely our guide, led by the Spirit and defined for practice for the Lord's congregation, individuals and collective.

As I reflect on being Baptists, it occurs to me that it is not easy to be baptistic. What do I mean? Our sense of freedom as pastors, congregations and members at times turn out to be a weakness as an Association. Everything we engage in outside of our congregations is "VOLUNTARY". Pastors and people have options "to do" or "not to do" when it comes to matters pertaining to Evergreen. Our Region is a voluntary Association - WE chose to become! The only part of our organization that is "structured" is the "caucuses."

Isn't it amazing that we have done well for almost five years? I must commend our pastors, churches and friends for YOUR participation in Evergreen with your time, energy, finances and prayers. We have NO "you musts", therefore no ways/means to enforce them. I do confess, however, that we do, "appeal to our sisters and brothers," from time to time. Yes, we appeal to your "voluntary spirit of goodness." It's a Scriptural prerogative, is it not? Thanks for your continuing response of goodwill -this is definitely Scriptural! In reality, our voluntary nature, is a POSITIVE! Baptists are certainly OK people. Praise God!

I thank God that I am an ASIAN American Baptist, otherwise I would have missed this "calling" to serve Evergreen. My only regret is that Dorothy is not here to share this experience with me as she had all my other significant happenings.

May the Good Lord keep each of YOU, your pastors and your churches in His blessed CARE!

Your Grateful Chair,

Rev. Peter Koshi

Meeting Our Seminararians

Recent issues of Evergreen Notes have reported on some of the seminararians from our member churches. Here is an introduction to one more:

Gretchen Bunzer Champoux is beginning her fifth year at Seattle University's School of Theology and Ministry. This academic year she will complete her Master's of Divinity Degree and also begin a post-master's certificate in Pastoral Counseling. Gretchen has completed two internships during her the course of her study: the first, as spiritual care intern for Providence Transitions, a subsidiary of Providence Hospice of Seattle, and the second, as pastoral intern at Fremont Baptist Church. Gretchen's ministry reflects her internship experiences: that is, the intersection between congregational life and pastoral care. Besides being a seminararian and active member of Seattle First Baptist Church, Gretchen runs a small garden design business. She lives happily in Ballard with her husband Andre where they enjoy reading, their kitties, and playing in their P-Patch.

Chairs & Tables Available for a Congregation

Queen Anne Baptist Church has about 100 folding chairs and five to seven long tables more than they currently need. The congregation wishes to give them to your church if you need them.

If interested, please contact Rev. Cathy Johnson, Pastor of Queen Anne Baptist Church, at 206-282-7744.

Starting in 2003, I've invited JBC's college men to a mini-retreat at Ocean Shores before the start of each school year. For this year's Fifth Annual event, six young men participated with me from Thursday, September 20th, through Saturday, the 22nd. They're shown in the photo (from left to right): Ed Oh, Tommy Booth, Jeremy Cho, Chris Nielsen, Evan Matsuzawa, and Nick Butler. Of these, Evan was the only first-timer, and Jeremy was the only one who has attended all five events! The group had a great time, keeping their pastor up till 1:30 a.m. one night and 2:30 a.m. the next.

New Resource

"I Have Called You Friends" (John 15:15) will help pastors and stewardship leaders design a giving campaign for next year.

The magazine includes a series of four worship services — including sermon ideas and songs — that teach the beauty of the offering and invite people to consider their future giving. The magazine sells for $9/copy and includes outlines for three services in the center insert. Information for the fourth is available on the Ecumenical Stewardship Center website: www.stewardshipresources.org.

Most churches will need only one or two copies of the magazine because all resources can be photocopied.

Forum on Educational Accountability—National Ministries

The Forum on Educational Accountability has been formed to improve federal education policy by expanding on and advancing the ideas in the "Joint Organizational Statement on No Child Left Behind." Supported by more than ninety national education, civil rights, religious, children's, disability, and civic organizations, including National Ministries, American Baptist Churches USA, the statement calls for significant changes to improve federal education policy. The signatories to the statement seek to shift No Child Left Behind from applying sanctions to schools for failing to raise test scores to supporting states and localities and holding them accountable as they work to make the systemic changes that improve student learning. For more on the Forum and the Joint Statement visit the Forum on Educational Accountability

Michael Stern & Friends in Concert

The Seattle Chapter Fellowship of Reconciliation presents singer/songwriter, Michael Stern with friends, Eric Smith and William Limbach in concert Saturday, October 20, 2007, 7:00 pm, at University Friends Meeting House, 4001—9th Avenue NE, Seattle.

The artists' repertoire will include songs of compassion, humor, justice and peace.

Suggested donation $10—$20, but nobody will be turned away for lack of funds.

Proceeds will benefit the local chapter of Fellowship of Reconciliation which has advocated nonviolent solutions to conflict since 1914.

TENT CITY 4 at Community Church of Issaquah—UPDATE

Issaquah has been a surprising place for TC4. It was expected that the camp would decrease in population being so far out from the metropolis, but instead the numbers have steadily climbed. As of September 4 the numbers were at 94. Many of our residents were finding jobs in Issaquah. Some were volunteering at the Fish Hatchery. Responses from Tent City 4 residents and the community remain positive. The Needs List Continues...

Food: Creamer for coffee, Coffee, Canned chili, stew,

Clothing: Warm clothing, especially wool socks. Please bring these items and any hand warmers, blankets, etc. to the church for storage and distribution; NOT to the camp. Cold weather stuff is leaving camp too rapidly with departing residents, and there is likely to be a shortfall when the bad weather comes.

NO Meal Dates to Fill: We are grateful to you all!!

Other: Personal sized flashlights, 33 gallon trash bags, sturdy paper plates, Laundry Soap, Batteries (D, AA, AAA) ... used for fans, flash lights, and many other uses; Women's sanitary products, Rubber bands, Antibiotic ointment, Printer paper (for resumes, camp paperwork, etc)

Thank you!

Outreach Minister

Missionary Commissioning Service

Two members of Japanese Baptist Church, Gordon and Lee Ann Hwang, were commissioned as American Baptist missionaries at JBC on Sunday, August 26th. Having been commissioned as JBC's own missionaries in 2005, the Hwangs now have a joint appointment by the church and ABC International Ministries. Participating in the commissioning service on behalf of the Board of International Ministries were Board member Sharon Gober from Chehalis WA; IM staff members Rev. Stan Murray and Rev. Jim Bell; and IM missionaries to Japan John and Tomoko Armagost and Carolyn Predmore.

Lee Ann Hwang teaches at Soshin School in "..., the Hwangs now have a joint appointment by the church and ABC International Ministries."

Yokohama, where she combines a full teaching load with ministry to students and other faculty. Gordon leads Bible studies and assists in the ministry of the Soshin Baptist Church.

SEATTLE FIRST IN TRANSITION

Seattle First Baptist said goodbye to one of their pastors the end of July. Stephen D. Jones moved with wife, Jan, to St. Louis, Missouri where he now serves as pastor of Second Baptist Church.

While the church does some study of staff structure and its future, the remaining two pastors continue to serve; Cathy Fransson serves full time and Craig Darling will give some extra time to the church from his primary duties as Director of Companis. Recently retired David Kile has taken on some added time/duties, and added staff member, Ingrid Welti, helps with administrative tasks. Your prayers and concerns are appreciated.

Cultural Competency Training for the Northwest

A Partnership of: Evergreen Association of American Baptist Churches, Evangelical Lutheran Church in America Northwest Synods, Episcopal Diocese of Olympia, Pacific Northwest Conference of the United Methodist Church, in conjunction with the Kaleidoscope Institute and the Reverend Eric Law.

November 6, 2007

8:30 AM to 5:00 PM

Peace Lutheran Church

2106 S. Cushman

Tacoma WA

253.383.1317

What is Cultural Competency training?

Cultural competency training assists in building skills to effectively communicate with a diversity of people - younger, older, immigrant generation, a primary language or culture different from your own.

As Christians in the Northwest we want our faith communities to reflect the diversity of the local community. You will learn skills and tools for building relationships with your neighbors of diverse cultural and ethnic backgrounds.

Who should attend?

Lay and clergy persons in leadership positions in their churches or organizations

Congregations reaching out to communities becoming more diverse

Persons ministering cross-culturally

Persons who are curious about their own potential for embracing diversity

Why do this training ecumenically?

Developing our ecumenical relationships and collaboration strengthens our witness and outreach locally. This ecumenical partnership represents a long-term commitment to build capacity among Christian community in the Pacific Northwest to train others in cultural competency.

MISSION STATEMENT

Being a culturally diverse people who are one in Christ and who value the liberties of our American Baptist Heritage, the Evergreen Baptist Association will

- Build bridges between communities;
- Provide resources to equip member churches to share Christ, and teach God's word; and
- Translate our unity to the world.
